Mother nature is at it again with two storms this week and the snow is piling up, Clubs are certainly going to be busy for the next several days making sure that the trails are in great shape for this upcoming weekend. Remember that it takes several trips with the groomers to get the trails hard and with all this new snow it will be a little more difficult. As a snowmobiler you can help with not starting too hard and making piles.

Please remember that there will be groomers out DAY and night due to all the snow so please use caution.

With the snow getting deeper signs are becoming shorter if you encounter this please help and clean off the snow in front of the sign, any help like this makes the job easier for the clubs.

Moose and Deer are using the trails everywhere so please use caution if you come into an area with tracks all over the trails.
